Loughlin Releases Web Video on Immigration

John Loughlin, Republican candidate for Congress today released a web video of his trip to Arizona that outlines his stance on the illegal alien crisis.

“Being on the ground in Arizona provided me with a firsthand look at the illegal alien crisis,” said Loughlin. “I hope that by sharing this video, others will be able to understand that this is not just about one state, but about the federal government’s failure to secure the border.

“We must close the border and crack down on employers who take advantage of this vulnerable population before we can have a meaningful national discussion about immigration.”
